

DESIGN CLASSIC

Sacha and Catherine's stunning home in Magheralin is a refreshing blend of traditional traits and classic contemporary design. Aptly named The Thatch, this new build has been roofed with Turkish reed and whitewashed for that quaint cottage look. You could assume that the interior would be decorated with floral wallcoverings and Chesterfield suites.

Think again. Walk through the front door and you'll see the contrast – clean lines and ultra modern furnishings set the tone in this eclectic family home.

PHOTOGRAPHY BY DEREK ROBINSON.